3. The request was signed by the President and Secretary on behalf of the Employees Co-op. Society Ltd. Though their names were mentioned on top of the letterhead on which the request was submitted, it was not proper. A request could be submitted on behalf of a Society, but the name of the person should invariably be given beneath his signature. Also, the request could be made only by a single person and not by two persons, as in the present case. Though the application was invalid, the public authority had provided the information.

4. No further action is necessary. The complainant petition is disposed off, accordingly.
