2. The complainant has asked for certain information through as many as 99 queries. The CPIO has replied, with which he is not satisfied. Hence, this complaint before the Commission.

Decision:

3. Under section 2 (f) of the Act, the information seeker is required to ask for the information which should be available in any material form. He is not expected to elicit views and opinion of the CPIO through various forms of queries, as has been done in the instant case.

4. As there is no denial of information, the complainant is advised to seek inspection of relevant records so as to specify the required information. Both the parties should mutually decide a convenient date and time for inspection of relevant records within 15 working days from the date of issue of this decision. Upon inspection, the specified information should be furnished as per the provisions of the Act.

5. The complaint is thus disposed of.
